Risk Management and Internal Control Mechanism

In 2015, the Company undertook a new project aimed at reassessing its Corporate Risk Management efforts from a holistic point of view and restructuring the corporate risk processes. Within this context, the Company began obtaining consultancy services from Marsh Sigorta ve Reasürans Brokerliği (Marsh Insurance and Reinsurance Brokerage) in order to assess the existing situation in terms of risk management and to manage risk more effectively.

The Corporate Risk Management restructuring process includes the main headings of:

- Defining risk criteria,
- Establishing risk assessment scales (effect and probability),
- Preparing a consolidated risk inventory,
- Development of the action plans required to reduce and/or eliminate such risks,
- Defining the risk management framework that is being targeted, and
- Integrating the determination into the Corporate Risk Management system.

The company's exposure to the fluctuations in foreign exchange rates and interest rates, is mainly due to the foreign exchange denominated loans in its Balance Sheet. Foreign exchange risk from loans and fluctuations in Euribor rates are continuously monitored and limited by hedging derivative instruments. Detailed information has been provided at Note 23, titled Exchange Rate Risk and Foreign Currency Position, of Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements for the Interim Period 1 January - 30 June 2016 of the Company.

Risk management is implemented by each subsidiary within the framework of policies decided by the Board of Directors.

The Early Recognition of Risk Committee, which convenes 6 times a year, coordinates to take precaution against predictable risks that the company might face as a result of its financial structure and reports regularly to the Board of Directors about its practices. As mentioned above, the maturity of the Company's current Euro debt is extended via refinancing and some portion of the debt is converted to Turkish Lira. Thus, the currency risk is limited. Reducing the Company's financial indebtedness is one of the priorities of the senior management.

Risks pertaining to the overall economy such as the increase in unemployment can be listed among the non-financial risks.

The Internal Audit Department conducts its activities in the financial and operational audits it carries out in accordance with the below principles:

- Effective and economical use of the Company's assets,
- Effectiveness of the internal control mechanisms over operations and activities,
- Reliability of the financial statements,
- Verification of the Company's assets
- Productivity and effectiveness of operations,
- Compliance with procedural documents and administrative instructions that have been approved by the Company's management.

Examining/researching to what degree activities and transactions containing a pre-identified and reported element of risk have been eliminated or brought under control within the framework of suggestions deemed appropriate by the management, and follow up audits in circumstances requiring detailed research and examination are among the fundamental activities of the internal audit department.

Irregular activities discovered during various audit efforts are researched in detail in order to ensure that the necessary precautions can be taken and suggestions are made on how to address the Company loss that has been identified. One of the main focuses of these efforts is the changes that must be implemented in the process to ensure that there is no repeat of similar circumstances.

Within this context, in line with the 2015 risk analysis conducted and annual internal audit plan, the Internal Audit Department has conducted financial and operational audits encompassing various departments and processes. The assessments and suggestions generated at the end of the audits were presented to the Company's senior management together with the audit reports that had been prepared and the points of improvement were highlighted under the philosophy of continual development. In addition to the financial and operational audits conducted by the Internal Audit Department, the Internal Audit Department also completed control inspections of issues that had been identified earlier, reported to the senior management and regarding which an agreement had been reached as to the precautions that would be taken.

The quality and amount of the capital market instruments that have been issued

No capital market instruments were issued during the period of 01 January – 30 June 2016.
